It has been a pleasure working with Daned Kirkham over the last nearly two years, and I am pleased to provide my recommendation of him for your organization.

Mr. Kirkham was a great fit to our team and was able to quickly establish himself as a valuable asset to the company. During his time with Diamante, he oversaw all real estate sales as well as general company branding and marketing activities. He also provided much needed assistance in several other areas of our operation, including the creation of our property rental program and the management of client relations regarding the home construction process.

Both our clients and staff enjoyed working with him, as he was able to effectively manage communications, assigned tasks and responsibilities. He showed professionalism and integrity when representing our company and was respected within the company as well as the local community.

We are thankful for the many contributions Mr. Kirkham was able to bring to our company, and we offer our sincerest recommendation of him to your organization.

Regards,
